

Cascade Bridal Bouquet

This waterfall –like spill of flowers arranged to cascade from the brides hands is a classic traditional style bouquet. Flowers with longer stems, such as calla lilies, create the lower part of the bouquet creating a beautiful cascading effect.

Teardrop Bridal Bouquet

Not dissimilar to the shower/cascade bridal bouquet, the teardrop bouquet is a more robust arrangement of flowers with the rounded top and pointed at the bottom, often backed with a large foliage such as aspidistra leaves.

Presentation Bridal Bouquet

Flowers suitable for this bridal bouquet type often have long stems, like calla lilies, orchids and also long stemmed roses which are tied together in a natural state for cradling in the arm.

Formal Bouquet

A perfectly compact round design dating back to the thirteenth century using either one variety or a mix of tightly packed flowers. This is a popular choice for brides who want to create the style of a traditional wedding day.

Beidermeier Bridal Bouquet

An intricate variation on the formal bridal bouquet, the shape of the beidermeier is round. Flowers of the same type and colour are arranged in a circular pattern with each ‘ring’ representing an identical flower such as red or white roses.

Freestyle Bridal Bouquet

No specific or defined shape so probably the most natural bridal bouquet available, usually consisting of much more foliage than a formal bridal bouquet and often included tropical flowers.

Wrist Corsages

Children can easily become bored at traditional wedding ceremonies and sometimes the last thing a younger bridesmaid will want to do is carry a bouquet all day. Wrist corsages will make a simple solution to dog ears children’s flowers by the time the photographs are taken.

Table Flowers in vases

These can be utilised for wedding ceremony centre pieces, wedding reception table decoration and an array of wedding flower decor needs – perfect for any wedding flowers budget. We will source the ideal vases for your wedding flowers arrangements on a cost effective rental basis.

Deluxe Buttonhole

These are the number one choice for the groom on your special day and arena flowers ‘full monty’ of buttonhole design. The grooms button hole is traditionally created using flowers from the bridal bouquet, can be wired and stem wrapped with the foliage of your choice, with or without decoration.

Lapel Corsage

A large, more showy alternative to a buttonhole and made from flowers of the brides wedding bouquet. Pinned to the grooms left lapel was with the buttonhole, this can be co-ordinated with a corsage as worn by the mother and grandmothers of the bride.

Pew Ends

As their name suggests, these flowers arranges are primarily for church weddings. They can, of course, be transferred to the wedding reception venue to be re used as chair back or buffet table decorations.

Head Table

Horizontal or triangular flower arrangements are favoured for the top table of the wedding reception as these are longer, narrow and lower for maximum affect without obscuring the view of the guests. It does however leave room for dining.