

“ A TASTE OF AFRICA”

The sun is a ball of fire setting the landscape ablaze in its wake,
Polka-dotted creatures watch from the ancient trees of history, African beasts, wild with horns of steel, roam the plains, ready to charge into battle.

Kings of the Jungle fight for the golden throne,
A fury of colours fly across the sky when danger is near,
The tallest giants search for fruit from the trees of heaven, Creatures with stripes of ying and yang move as one, to search and conquer the grassy land.

Jonathan Corbett – Grade 7 Bachar
Merrifield College
East London