

Aloeine

The idea behind Aloeine skin gel was to come up with a product that can be applied daily and has multiple beneficial properties. We decided to keep the Aloe gel percentage as high as possible, and glycerine was added as it has an aqueous base and keeps skin moisture in as well as mixing easily with Aloe gel. We needed an oil base to enrich and soften the skin and settled on sweet almond oil with a small amount of Cera Alba (beeswax) which also has beneficial skin properties. Aloeine has one of the highest whole leaf Aloe gel percentages (95%) that is available in the market. One must try it, and like the juice, have patience and persistence if you have any skin condition you wish to try heal. We have listed only a small number of benefits on the bottle – the list would actually be endless, as I have had customers use it successfully to treat, fever blisters, bed sores, nappy rash and scalp conditions.
