

BLENDING TRAINING PROGRAMME SUPPORT AND LOGISTICS

Communication Mediums:

Email:

We urge our clients/learners to please utilize their email for all correspondences. In the meantime, our email address is info@fmrsa.co.za, this will change and be communicated.

WhatsApp:

We have a dedicated cell number 076 881 9310 available for WhatsApp.
(Available from Monday to Friday's during normal working hours 8am – 5pm)

All communication that is done either on email or WhatsApp will be backed up, printed and attached to your portfolio of evidence.

Another platform that you may use is a file transfer website.

The website is www.wetransfer.com this is an easy to use website that allows you to select what files you would like to send to another person's email address.

Complete the block by adding your files you would like to send, complete our Email to, Email from

Then click Transfer

A link then will be sent to our email address in order to download your work.

These platforms will be used to send or receive any learning material or work that needs to be completed either by the learner or ourselves.

Please ensure that you complete all work that is necessary including labelling your work correctly and clear. Any work that is submitted that's not legible or clear cannot be assessed.

First Medical Response reserves the right to request additional work to be completed by the learner in order for the learner to be declared competent.

You may also print all necessary work and either scan and email it to us or deliver to us. Work needs to be in a sealed envelope addressed to First Medical Response with the subject Blended Learning Portfolio of Evidence.
