Editor's note...

Dear Friends,

It is March and autumn in South Africa. All over there are trees losing their leaves. Orange, red and brown leaves are falling to form a colourful carpet on the ground. Sadly, after a while these deciduous trees stand bare, naked with all their twigs and branches exposed. (Trees that shed their leaves each year are called deciduous trees)

But there are other trees, called evergreen trees that do not shed its leaves in autumn. These trees remain green throughout the year. The most well-known evergreen tree must be the pine, which will remain green, even if covered in snow.

This made me think about us. In life we face different seasons. We have spring and summer, but we also have autumn and winter. When in summer, when everything goes well and we have no problems we look like trees covered in green leaves. We are able to sing and bring praises to the Lord. It is not difficult to be joyful, glad and thankful in summer times. But who we are is seen when winter comes. It is in winter that we can determine whether a tree is deciduous or evergreen.

In winter times, when trouble comes, when were hurt, abused or broken. When we torn apart and everything goes wrong, will we shed our leaves all will we remain joyful, glad and thankful? Will we be able to glorify God, show of our leaves of glory or will we stand naked, bare showing the dry twigs we're made off? When we came to God, we were filled with God's glory, a glory to be shown in summer an in winter.

We are called to stand firm, to remain in Christ, to show the glory of the father, even when times are bad, even when bad things happen, even when our day seems to turn to night.

Thank you for your time in reading this my friends, may God bless you.
Regards
Charmaine

Advertise your product or service in every issue

Some business people think they can run an advertisement once and their business will be on it's way to it's first million rand. But then they are often disappointed at the response.

There is an age old story that explains how advertising works:

- * The first time a man looks at an advertisement, he doesn't see it!
- * The second time, he looks, he doesn't notice it.
- * The third time, he conscious of its existence.
- * The fourth time, he faintly remembers having seen it.

The story carries on - at the sixteenth time he thinks about buying the product. Only at the twentieth time he sees the advertisement, he instructs his wife to go and buy the advertised product.

Why wait, advertise your product or service in every issue of Top Vibe!!

Do I need to wear Glasses?

You notice it suddenly - a decline in vision. The symptoms of declining vision can vary. From some people, it becomes difficult to read traffic signs quickly and from a distance. For others, they notice that they have to hold their book or newspaper further away in order to be able to read the text.

Both small children and adults might notice they've started needing to blink their eyes to bring objects back into focus. When symptoms such as these arise, you might wonder:

Do I need to wear glasses? But often people delay getting expert advice from an optometrist.

Regardless of the cause of a decline in vision, the first step in a visit to your optometrist. A visual screening takes only a few minutes and will give you some answers. If you are suffering from a loss in visual acuity that could be corrected by means of glasses, your eyes may be forced to undergo strain with associated visual fatigue.

What is Myopia?

Myopia or short-sightedness is a deterioration in distance vision that arises when the eyeball is too long or focus ability of the eye is too strong. Myopia can start at any age.

The typical symptoms include:

- * distant objects appear blurred
- * squinting the eye when looking at distant objects

What is Hyperopia?

Hyperopia or farsightedness is when there is greater difficulty seeing near objects than far objects. It may be because the eyeball is too small, or because the focusing ability of the eye is too weak.

Symptoms of hyperopia include:

- * blurred vision up close
- * headaches when reading
- * squint / strabismus in children
- * red eyes when reading

What is Presbyopia?

Presbyopia generally presents itself between the ages of 40-45 years. The lens inside the eye loses its elasticity and cannot accommodate anymore. Holding reading material a little further away at arm's length temporarily compensates for this problem. However, if you are sighted.

The symptoms of presbyopia include:

- * newspapers have to be held further away in order to read.
- * a frequent burning sensation in the eye when doing close work.
- * headaches and eye pain
- * increased fatigue when reading.

If you experience a change in your vision or visual behavior it is always advised to seek professional help. An eye test is a way to prevent any unnecessary permanent damage to your eye and should be regarded as important as a regular checkup at your doctor. If glasses are prescribed, they should only be used for the purpose that they are intended.

Your eyes are the window to your world - treat them with the utmost care!

Take care of your eyes.....Choose plastic!

WHY ARE PLASTIC LENSES BETTER THAN GLASS?

There are various reasons why plastic lenses are advisable than glass.

1. There is a safety hazard when choosing glass lenses -if you receive a traumatic blow to your face with a pair of glass lenses on your nose, the risk of the lenses shattering into hundreds of pieces and cutting your skin is much higher than of plastic
2. Glass lenses are heavier than plastic lenses, causing discomfort on the nose bridge.
3. A plastic lens is more durable than a glass lens and does not break or chip as easily. When fitting a glass lens into a rimless or semi - rimless frame, the chances of the lens chipping or cracking is much higher than that of plastic, thus most optometrists refuse to fit glass lenses into these types of frames.
The higher refractive index option on plastic lenses allow for an even more durable lens which is recommended when choosing a rimless or semi- rimless frame.
4. The best single vision, bifocal, office and multifocal lens design option are only available in plastic lenses.

The most important advantage of a plastic lens is safety.

You have only two eyes and they cannot be replaced.

Take care of your eyes - choose plastic!

“Calvary, our victory, our calling”

Calvary, also called “the skull”, place of shame, place of suffering, place of death. It was on this hill, Calvary where He was despised and rejected; where he endured suffering and pain, where He was ignored as if he were nothing. But he endured the suffering that should have been ours, The pain that we should have borne. All the while we thought that his suffering was punishment sent by God. But because of our sins he was wounded, beaten because of the evil we did. We are healed by the punishment he suffered, made whole by the blows he received. All of us were like sheep that were lost, each of us going his own way. But the LORD made the punishment fall on him, the punishment all of us deserved. He was treated harshly, but endured it humbly; he never said a word. Like a lamb about to be slaughtered, like a sheep about to be sheared, he never said a word. He was arrested and sentenced and led off to die, and no one cared about his fate. He was put to death for the sins of our people. (Isaiah 53)

By the death of Jesus Christ and His resurrection I am saved, washed and sanctified. Because of His blood, I have life; I'm born again. I'm experiencing God in so many ways. I am so aware of His love and mercy. But there are others: those sitting on pavements with no hope, teenagers addicted to drugs, mothers crying, fathers battling to provide, grandparents locked away in small rooms, children begging for bread, alcoholics in boardrooms, men and women in the closet, married people caught in adultery and fornication, young and old enslaved in prostitution and pornography. They're crying out, whispering softly, hoping for someone to hear or to see their need. Their whole being calls out: “Jesus, son of God, have mercy on me”

And we, we walk pass, look the other way, pretend to be deaf. All too often we refuse to see, refuse to hear, refuse to stop, refuse to give, refuse to be like Jesus. Didn't Jesus say: “Be merciful just as your Father is merciful? Do not judge others, and God will not judge you; do not condemn others, and God will not condemn you; forgive others, and God will forgive you. Give to others, and God will give to you. Indeed, you will receive a full measure, a generous helping, poured into your hands---all that you can hold. The measure you use for others is the one that God will use for you.” (Luke 6:36-38)

Jesus gave his life, his all, his everything. Isn't it time we commit to the Lord, commit to giving, commit to offering, commit to helping, commit to caring, commit to loving? How much longer are we going to ignore God's call? How many more souls will be lost? How many more children will be going to bed hungry? How many more will land in hospitals or rehabs?

You and I can make a difference. We can love someone back to life. We can give them love, mercy and hope. We can introduce them to Jesus Christ.

And if you're not in a relationship with God as yet, let me tell you that Jesus loves you, He cares about you, He wishes to live and reign in you. Why don't you allow Him into your life, give Him a change? He has given Jesus Christ, His Son, to die in your place. And in death Jesus gave you life but you need to reach out, accept Him and invite Him to be your Savior, Master and King.

God loves you too much to see you die without Him and Jesus showed His love by dying for you, even while you were a sinner.

Heavenly Father, I believe that I have sinned and fall short of your glory. I also believe that I can have life through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Forgive me my sin and accept me into your kingdom. Let your light shine in me and through me so that I can shine your light in the darkness. I pray in Jesus name Amen!
